

MALTA RESOURCES AUTHORITY

New CEO for the Malta Resources Authority

The Malta Resources Authority announces the appointment of Ing Anthony Rizzo as its Chief Executive with effect from tomorrow October 1st 2009.

Anthony Rizzo is an Engineer by Profession. He graduated B. Mech Eng (Hons) from the University of Malta in 1983.

He worked for Air Malta between 1979 and 1990 when he moved to the private sector where his positions included senior positions at Menrad (Malta) and at Playmobil (Malta).

He returned to the public sector in 2002 where he served as Chief Executive Officer at the Water Services Corporation. In 2006 he served as the Chief Executive Officer of Enemalta Corporation. In 2007 he joined a private manufacturing company as its Managing Director.

Ing Rizzo takes over from Ing Antoine Riolo who will be retiring. Ing Riolo was the first Chief Executive of the Malta Resources Authority.

30th September 2009

MRA/PR 11/09